To Whom may concern.

Over the past few months, I had the pleasure working with Valia Yiannopoulou, she worked part-time from January to June as a Junior Security Software Developer

As she leaves for new challenges, I take this opportunity to provide a recommendation on her behalf.

In my collaboration with Valia, we worked on the development of a module from our platform that's responsible for security incident analysis. We worked with technologies such as C++ and Python.

Valia was also involved in writing and reviewing security reports.

Her work was unique. She was consistent and worked harmoniously with the rest of our Team.

I wish her the best as she faces new challenges.

Sincerely,

Spyros Manglis
